My background in IT contracting has given me the opportunity to combine my interests in technology, data, and privacy on many interesting projects. These range from data analytics projects of national importance to launch of apps by tech start-ups with great ideas.

I am a cyber breach specialist. I help clients prepare for incidents, including putting in place policies they can rely on in an emergency and training incident response teams for the 'real deal'. I help clients deal with incidents small and large, including managing multi-territory incidents.

Having held Data Protection Officer roles in-house for two major IT providers and an international law firm I always aim to give clients advice with a good measure of pragmatism.

I was thrilled to win the Lexology Client Choice Award for 2019 in the IT and Internet category - thanks to the great feedback from my clients.
