I specialise in data protection and privacy and advise both international and UK clients on compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation, the e-Privacy Directive and UK data protection law.

My experience includes providing practical advice on large GDPR compliance projects. I have advised on data export solutions such as model clauses and Binding Corporate Rules, negotiated data sharing and data processing agreements, drafted highly-tailored privacy and cookie notices and helped clients develop practical systems for their records of processing and data privacy impact assessments.

I have significant experience advising clients on GDPR data subject right requests and responding to ICO complaints.

As a biology graduate and following a previous career in broadcast journalism for the BBC, I have particular interests in the media and life science sectors.

I have been able to hone my experience in this area through hosting regular GDPR discussion events for broadcasters, two secondments to a broadcaster and advising media and pharmacology clients.

I have provided data protection training at Fieldfisher's annual Privacy Summit and to Henley Business School and I have written about data protection for publications such as Financier Worldwide. I am a member of the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP).

Away from the office, I love the theatre, films, socialising and exploring new places.
