I also assist clients with pre-litigation strategies and actions in these areas.

I provide professional support to companies of all sizes, both Italian and international.

My clients operate mainly in the financial and services sectors, as well as in various industrial sectors, (e.g. mechanical, manufacturing, automotive).

I have been a member of the Turin Bar Association since 1998 and have been qualified to practise before the higher courts since 2013.

Before joining Fieldfisher, I was a partner at a major law firm in Turin for thirteen years, acquiring extensive experience and practice in all fields of civil law.

I advise my clients also in French, as well as in Italian and English.
