I have vast experience in providing advice to national and multinational industrial and commercial companies operating across various sectors, including chemicals, aerospace, health and automotive. As I have worked with these sectors for years, I can readily identify the requirements and peculiarities of the sector and contextualise them within the complex Italian tax system.

I provide consultancy activity mainly in the field of international operations, assisting and coordinating projects to establish Italian companies abroad and foreign companies in Italy, as well as managing the start-up phase of the administrative, accounting and tax compliance matters.

As well as having all-round knowledge of Italian taxation, I have developed specialist expertise within the field of indirect taxation. Thanks to my in-depth knowledge of the EU VAT Directive and the case law of the European Court of Justice, I assist major Italian and foreign clients in managing VAT flows, with a view to achieving economic and financial efficiency.

I am a member of boards of auditors and supervisory bodies of corporations operating in various business sectors.

I am the author of numerous publications on VAT issues published in specialist media, a speaker at conferences, as well as a lecturer on post-graduate courses on taxation.

Before joining Fieldfisher I worked at one of the “Big Four” accountancy firms and spent a secondment period at the Amsterdam office in the Netherlands.

I advise my clients in Italian and English.
