I specialise in road traffic collisions, workplace accidents, public liability and occupier's liability claims for clients who have suffered life-changing injuries including traumatic brain injuries and complex orthopaedic injuries resulting from negligence.

I have assisted many clients from the early stages following a serious injury to help access funds for private rehabilitation to maximise recovery and get their lives back on track.

I have acted for multiple clients who have been injured at work, pedestrians injured by other road users, drivers involved in multiple vehicle collisions, cyclists and electric scooters.
