I assist clients in the negotiation and drafting of environmental provisions in all types of real estate contracts. I also act in litigation matters, before both the administrative and the judicial courts.

I have extensive expertise in the renewable energy sector, advising operators, investors, and demand-response aggregators.

I was admitted to the Paris Bar in 2013 and hold a Masters 2 from the University of Paris X-Nanterre, an LLM from University College London, and a Master of Public Affairs - Energy Studies from Sciences Po Paris.

I am bilingual in French and English.
