I advise pharmaceutical companies, medical device manufacturers and distributors of healthcare products on regulatory and contract law issues. I also advise on litigation in this area.

I hold a university degree in law and linguistics, an LL.M in medical law (University of Kent) and a Master 2 in health law (University of Paris V Descartes).

I also hold a trilingual law degree in French, English and Spanish (Paris).

I have been a member of the Paris Bar since 2019.

Before joining Fieldfisher in 2019, I worked at the Ministry of Health and in the Health Department of a French law firm.

I speak French, English and Spanish.
