I specialise in the investigation and presentation of cases for hearing before professional conduct committees of regulatory bodies. I also am involved in the provision of advices to regulatory bodies in relation to all aspects of their statutory functions, as well as in relation to their practice and procedures.

I regularly investigate and prepare cases for oral hearing before professional conduct committees of regulatory bodies and before the High Court.

I have extensive litigation and advocacy experience and have represented clients in the Circuit Court, High Court and Court of Appeal.
