As a long-serving oil and gas lawyer, I have direct industry as well as private practice experience, having previously been senior legal counsel at Hess Corporation for six years and, prior to that, having spent a period on secondment to Shell.

My experience covers the full E&P cycle and includes licensing, concessions, production sharing contracts, joint ventures (including joint bidding agreements and joint operating agreements), development contracts, transportation, processing, marketing and sales as well as share/asset acquisitions and disposals (M&A) and farm-out transactions.

I have extensive experience within the UKCS and internationally and have worked on projects in many overseas jurisdictions including Algeria, Azerbaijan, Brazil, Gabon, Ghana, Indonesia, Kazakhstan, Malaysia, Mauretania and Thailand.

I have also worked on renewable energy projects, including wind farm, biomass and biofuels projects.
