I have a special focus on advising domestic and international investors or founders of start-up enterprises in various stages of their development. Besides that, I also offer legal advice to companies and entrepreneurs in a variety of commercial matters, including contentious matters.

Since 2015, I have worked as a lawyer in Munich. Before joining Fieldfisher, I gained valuable experience in the field of corporate law and private equity/venture capital with a Munich boutique law firm specialised in these areas. Before that, I was allowed to obtain practical in-depth experience of insolvency law and the conduct of complex litigation.

I advise clients in English and German.

I am interested in classical music, theatre, fine arts as well as history. I also enjoy sailing or cooking with or for good friends.
