I focus on resolving business related disputes, in particular in the area of corporate, insolvency and tax law. I have particular expertise in the processing of "mass proceedings", i.e. the enforcement of and defence against a multitude of claims.

My clients are national and international companies, in particular investment funds.

I advise my clients in German and English and have basic knowledge in Spanish and French.

In my spare time, I like to travel and to watch good movies. I am interested in photography and learning new languages.
