I am an associate in the IP and Technology, Protection and Enforcement group at Fieldfisher.

I advise on a wide variety of IP disputes in relation to trade marks, passing off, copyright, design rights and patents. I have also advised on contractual disputes with a technology and/or privacy focus.

I have experience in relation to advising clients on a range of intellectual property requirements. This includes managing global trade mark portfolios, carrying out worldwide trade mark clearance, filing and prosecution of trade marks, contentious registry proceedings including bringing and defending trade mark opposition, invalidity and revocation actions throughout the world, and negotiating settlement and co-existence agreements.

My experience also includes advising clients on disputes involving copyright, designs rights and patents. I have acted for clients in UK High Court and IPEC proceedings, and helped to manage and coordinate trade mark and patent litigation proceedings internationally.
