My practice centres around asset finance, advising banks and other financial institutions on cross-border lending transactions.

A large part of my work focusses on private banking and wealth management matters, acting for institutional lenders, as well as high net worth borrowers, on international transactions with a focus on aircraft (corporate jet) finance, yacht finance, art finance and margin loans.

I also specialise in loan facilities made available to companies in the technology (including Fintech) and life sciences sectors. I work lender and borrower side on venture debt and growth products, with a particular focus on taking security over receivables and IP.

I edit The Wealth Finance Brief, an email bulletin targeted at clients within the private banking sector. I have also contributed to a number of the firm's other publications, including: A guide to Corporate Jet Finance, Security over Art, A Guide to Yacht Finance and Fixed and Floating Charges.

What others say...
