I specialise in assisting clients in preparing and negotiating commercial contracts, including distribution, sales, purchase and franchising agreements.

I also deal with governance and compliance for both public and private companies, with particular reference to governance models and compliance programmes aimed at preventing corporate crime.

I have also dealt with M&A and legal due diligence matters for industrial clients, as well as for investment funds.

Before joining Fieldfisher I spent fifteen years at one of the “Big Four” accountancy firms where I advised on the legal issues involved in statutory accounts auditing and economic consultancy.

I advise my clients in Italian and English.
