A practising attorney since 1999, I have extensive experience in the field of Due Diligence, analysing permitting procedures and identifying regulatory, environmental, and urban planning risks.

I also have experience in developing authorisation and financial processes in the implementation of renewable electricity generation (e.g. wind and photovoltaic, self-supply) and high-efficiency cogeneration facilities, as well as in sourcing supplies (water, gas, PPAs).

I have advised on the implementation of projects on government-owned, non-residential, and private land. Its specialisation is the regulatory field (authorisations and sectoral registrations), public procurement, public-private partnerships, rebalancing of concessions, grants, aid, public equity loans, forced expropriation, urban, territorial, and environmental procedures, and protection of historical-cultural heritage.

I am also an expert in contractual rebalancing procedures (public and private) and administrative asset liability, in particular in the urban planning sector. I also have experience in legal practice before the courts, including accounting, constitutional and community law.

My customers are companies in the construction, infrastructure, industrial and energy sectors (electricity, gas, hydrocarbons, etc.), asset purchase, concessions, and authorisations.

In 2019 and 2020, I was included by Chambers and Partners in the ranking of best attorneys in Europe in the Energy and Natural Resources sector.
