LOCATIONS

France

I advise both French companies and international groups, notably including tax advices in restructuring operations, analysis of cross-border financing solutions, implementation of tax planning for multinational corporations and assistance in tax audits.

A lawyer at the Paris Bar since 2012, I hold a Master degree in Business Law with a specialization in tax.

Before joining Fieldfisher as an Associate in 2015, I worked for six years in the tax departments of a Big Four (Ernst & Young Société d'Avocats in Paris with a one-year experience in the London office).

I speak French and English.
