I specialise in advising on general corporate matters and corporate housekeeping as well as contract drafting, with a particular expertise in drafting different types of general terms and conditions, sales and service agreements and intercompany-agreements.

My clients are domestic as well as international clients. The latter I advise especially in connection with their expansion into Germany. I have gained significant experience in various industries, the financial services sector and the retail sector being two of them.

German is my native language and I am fluent in English and French.
