I requalified as a solicitor in 2000 and my dual qualification gives me a considerable advantage when it comes to reviewing Real Estate transactions and opportunities.

I have dealt with the acquisition and disposal of substantial property portfolios including multi-let shopping centres, retail parks, office developments and manufacturing distribution and warehousing schemes throughout England and Wales often to very tight timescales. I also give advice on the development of motor dealerships (including acquisition, disposal and internal).

More recently I dealt with the sale of a retail park in the south east of England for £45.5 million within 12 working days of heads of terms being issued. I also dealt with the sale of a mixed portfolio of properties including light industrial warehousing and offices premises worth £40 million within 8 working days of heads of terms being released.
