My particular expertise is advising medium and large industrial and financial companies, covering corporate income tax, extraordinary operations, statutory auditing, tax audit, tax due diligence, M&A and providing assistance to clients during verifications from tax authorities.

My clients are mainly domestic and international companies and subsidiaries of multinational companies, operating in manufacturing and services and in numerous industries, including pharmaceutical, automotive, leisure and travel, packaging and energy.

Before joining Fieldfisher I was an Associate at one of the Big Four firms and previously I was tax and legal coordinator at multinational companies.

I advise my clients in Italian and English.
