My work covers a wide range of disputes and includes both domestic litigation and international arbitration with a particular focus on investment treaty disputes. I have worked with investors in real estate, manufacturing, oil and gas and aviation fields under a variety of institutional rules, including ICSID, SCC and LCIA, as well as UNCITRAL rules.

I trained at Fieldfisher and prior to starting my training contract worked as a paralegal in the Dispute Resolution department. Before joining Fieldfisher I worked as a translator and have a Diploma in Translation from the Chartered Institute of Linguists which helps me speak with my clients in their own language.
