I have assisted clients with civil and criminal cartel investigations by the CMA; competition and consumer law compliance issues; merger control filings; state aid; governance matters; judicial review challenges and public inquests.

My work has encompassed a broad range of sectors including media, food and beverage and life sciences.

During my training at Fieldfisher, I gained experience in competition, public and regulatory law, intellectual property law and dispute resolution. I also spent six months on secondment at Viacom International Media Networks, where I gained experience working for both public sector and commercial broadcasters.
